

Honored Mentor

Joseph C. Glennon, VMD, DACVS

Donor

- Alexander Z. Aguila, DVM, DACVS-SA

I would have never been able to get my foot into the door of the small animal veterinary surgery community without the mentorship and support of Dr. Glennon. His meticulous attention to detail and surgical prowess was the spark that ignited my initial inspiration to become a small animal surgeon during surgical out-rotations while I was still a student at Cornell University. He continued the support by mentoring me during a surgical internship, prior to my acceptance to residency.
